Exotic Flowers Grown by Local Man Slated for Show

One hobbyist entering the flower section of the forthcoming Hobby, Art and Flower Show at the Civic Auditorium is H. E. Williamson, of 704 Madrid avenue, Torrance. Williamson's hobby is gardening, especially exotics such as orchid, anthurium, and many others.

Mrs. J. E. Cox, and Mrs. Dean L. Sears of the entry committee for the Torrance Terrace Garden Club, visited Williamson's home this week to view some of the plants he will enter in the show.

Deadline for flower entries in the show, slated for May 6, 7, and 8, is noon, May 6. For the hobby and art section, the deadline is May 1.

Hobby in Apartment
Williamson started his hobby about ten years ago when he and Mrs. Williamson were living in an apartment in Torrance. He began with a roof garden of perlargoniums, commonly known as Martha Washington geraniums, of which he had 26 varieties.

He supplemented these later with potted specimens of tuberous begonias, camellias, gardenias, a dwarf lemon tree, and rose bushes.

Williamson began indulging his hobby in earnest when they moved to a home in Kettler Knolls which boasted a lath house. Here is where he began cultivating tropical and shade plants.

In his present home on Madrid, he has a hot house as well as a lath house. This has made possible the cultivation of such exotics as hybrid orchids . . . cattleya, cymbidium, cypridium, and beautiful white phalaenopsis; there are the lovely pink and red anthurium; irisee plants with bright red foliage; philodendron of several varieties; the waxy green-leaved Frigisporum lobbianum; symponium, and stephanotis.

Begonias Favorite
One of Williamson's favorite plants is the begonia, from the tuberous on through the entire family. In the lath house he also has fifteen varieties of fern, from the smallest type tree fern to the largest type plant. There abound colorful cinerarias; fuchsias cascading from baskets suspended above, and growing upright in pots below. There are aralias he has grown from seed.

In the open garden he has roses, clematis, hybrid amaryllis, and several fruit trees. There are also several types of camellias.

Service Club League Play Set May 10

Slow pitch softball team managers set Tuesday, May 10, as the date to open play in the Service club league and Thursday, May 12, for the Blue Streak league.

These dates were decided on at a meeting of the managers in the Recreation Department office Thursday, April 21.

Teams
Early indications are that each league will again operate with an eight team membership. All last year's teams, except the Midland Rubber team, which was absorbed by the Shell Chemical co., are expected to participate again this year.

The newly formed Elk Lodge of Torrance is expected to replace Midland in the Blue Streak league, according to Elmer Moon, city athletic director.

Rules
Rule changes effected during the meeting allows all players to use a Little League type shoe, which has rubber cleats to prevent slipping in the infield, and outfielders will be permitted to wear regular baseball shoes with metal cleats while playing in their regular positions. These shoes must be removed when a player becomes a batsman, base runner, or plays an infield position.

Williamson has worked at Columbia Steel as a welder for the past ten years. His hobby is enjoyable to himself as well as others with whom he shares his knowledge and the beauty of his garden. He welcomes those who drop by to see his plants, and talk about gardening.

Last year he received a number of ribbons in the local show, and is planning to enter again this year.

Various Programs Offered At Local Parks, Playgrounds

Hundreds of boys and girls have been enjoying the regular Saturday recreation programs conducted on some of the school and city playgrounds, the Torrance Recreation Department announced today.

Bill Jackson at Carr School has a number of boys and girls turning out each Saturday for basketball, softball, and racket. Sacket is a new game recently introduced and attracts many of the youth on the playground.

A program of games and sports is being supervised by Bill Clary at Greenwood School. Walteria Park conducts basketball, softball, and volley ball. Three softball teams are now being organized, Lloyd Harline in charge.

A craft program is being carried out every day from 1 to 5:30 p.m. at El Retiro, with Val Daniels as instructor. Seaside school playground has many tournaments being planned for the near future. Richard Reynolds is in charge. Walteria school playground has tournaments and special events going on each Saturday. Frank Taylor, in charge.

Robert Lewis is leading in the chess tourney, with Ritchie Spurgeon, Dennis Lupin, John Coberly, Micheal Cortes and Neil Daily following.

Ritchie Hull is on top in the ping-pong tourney with Dean Hancock, Roxy Richard, and Micheal Cortes seeking the top spot.

In volleyball, Donald Pico and Jim Hunter lead over John Coberly and Ben Hunter with Neil Daily and Dennis Lupin coming up fast.

DISCUSS LOMITA STREETS

Neither Eshelman nor Pennsylvania aves., will be improved for the time being but work will start on Narbonne as soon as funds are ready, Sam Kennedy, Road Commissioner, informed the Lomita Property Owners and Registered Voters association.

At a meeting last week, the group also took a stand opposing the State bill to increase the sales tax to 4 per cent.

The association also went on record as wanting small neighborhood parks.

Members were informed that the fire department provides emergency rescusator service available by calling DA. 6-2121.

In regard to water service, the Public Utilities Commission informed members that it should be contacted in case water supply from Water Co. No. 2 is dirty or the pressure is low, according to Mrs. Desdie Myers, president.
